DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for a short repeater rifle, does not reasonably provide enablement for the short repeater rifle ALWAYS having a center of gravity in front of the trigger guard. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make the invention commensurate in scope with these claims. The center of gravity is dependant on materials chosen as well as the state of the rifle (i.e. loaded or unloaded, whether there is a sight on the weapon or any other external devices). Applicant is attempting to claim a result effective variable without disclosing or claiming structural elements and relationship that would ALWAYS result in that effect.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-12 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Barrett (US Patent # 4,932,148). Barrett discloses a shoulder-fired semi-automatic rifle including a barrel which has on one of its ends a cartridge receiver, a locking system, a trigger assembly with a trigger and a trigger guard, a firing mechanism, a magazine, and a targeting device, characterized in that the center of gravity will depend on many factors. There is a weapon base as a carrier for the barrel and for the locking system and the barrel is connected detachably to the weapon base in front of the cartridge receiver in the shooting direction. The trigger is arranged in front of the magazine. The drive of the firing mechanism is arranged in front of the magazine.

Conclusion

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Kotsiopoulos (US Patent # 6,226,915), Robinson et al. (US Patent # 6,019,024), and Geiser (US Patent # 4,651,455).
